Seeking Developmental or Clinical Psychologist

The Autism Child & Family Lab at the Hebrew University is committed to asking questions whose answers will improve the lives of children with autism and other developmental disabilities and their families. Our work focuses on families and systems as mechanisms for understanding and affecting phenotypic heterogeneity. We are part of a national network of sites working with the Azrieli National Centre for Autism and Neurodevelopment Research at Ben Gurion University committed to exploring the early development of autism.

We are recruiting a licensed psychologist (i.e., מומחה/ית) with expertise in diagnostic evaluations for young children with autism. This individual will supervise diagnostic evaluations, which are at the heart of an exciting new project in our lab, and will join a team of professionals working together around the country.

There is a possibility of getting involved in research and potentially combining this work with a PhD in the future.

Responsibilities:

- Conduct & supervise diagnostic assessments for young children with autism.
- Be on campus (Mt. Scopus) 2-4 mornings a week.

Qualified candidates:

- Will be licensed clinical or developmental psychologists with התמחות and training on ADOS.
- Significant expertise in diagnostic evaluations for young children with autism.

Salary will be discussed individually.

Interested candidates should please send a statement of interest, CV and names of two recommenders to kollerlab@mail.huji.ac.il

Start date from Sept. 1-Nov. 1 2022.
